Rx for Grudge Giving: Release resentment; practice forgiveness.

Rx for Duty Giving: Apply the Indiana Jones Principle! When faced with something you dread, approach it like an adventure! Spend time in your Spiritual Headquarters, strengthening Love and Understanding. Identify gratitude in the situation.

Rx for Thanksgiving “See-Saw Gratitude”: Reaffirm your awareness of “No Separation.” Spend quality time in the Silence, and put the Principles you know and believe into practice.

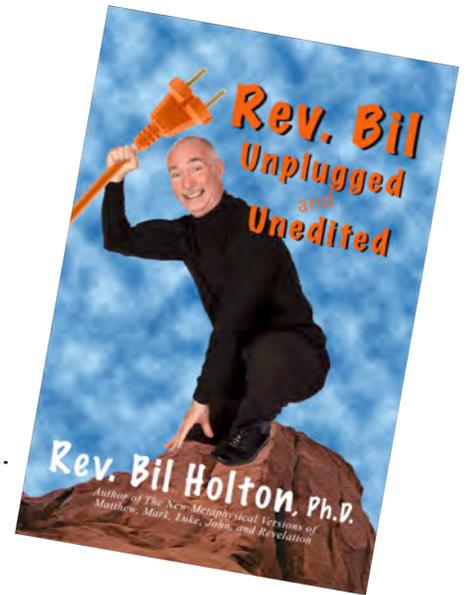

How to Stay in Thanksliving, as you walk the Spiritual Path on Practical Feet: Live to Give, Focusing on Others, not yourself; Focusing on Joy, not outer circumstances; Focusing on Abundance, not the appearance of lack.

Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving places you above the ups and downs of everyday living. It's a life in which you are not held captive by outer appearances. It's a life of perpetual gratitude. A life of being grateful for what you have. A life of great fullness.

Thanksgiving means you are the curator of your own soul when you elevate your thinking to a higher spiritual octave. It means allowing your inner priesthood to guarantee safe passage through the crucible of your skin school experience—no matter what happens to you down here. Your thoughts, intentions, beliefs, cells and molecules are monks, nuns and priests. Your body is your monastery and your consciousness is your cathedral.

Be 'thanks full.' It turns a meal into communion, an ordinary moment into an extraordinary moment, a house into a home, a stranger into a friend. Being thankful turns unemployment into redirection and the unknown into an adventure. It turns disappointments into acceptance and confusion into clarity. It turns hard times into the best of times, a handshake into a hug, a smile into laughter, being scared into sacred beingness, anger into forgiveness, unhappy employment into ecstatic other employment, relocation into opportunity, illness into illumination.
